

Christina Burkart Unit 9 Project

Reflection:

Several things inspired my design:

- Good current photos. I found some great stock photos and they had the look I was feeling.
- Joe's site with large picture got me looking at others and I noticed the trend of large photos with font overlay as the header
- Color scheme was a combination of 2 things.
  - Research on colors that make people hungry
  - Adobe color kuler schemes

I am most proud of the images and color theme. I have more work to do on the rest but love the look and feel of the site.

The design process was less planned than it should have been. I was guided more by what I found visually appealing for the site vs. a plan.

I struggled getting the images to flow the way I wanted the page to layout

Some of my code was not fluid which made it harder to make responsive. Will work on responsive from the beginning using % etc. vs fixed px.

Group 1 squarespace.com

The layout has used white space well and it is easy to look at.

The use of the handwritten typography is very appealing.

The flow is good on the home page and contains a ton of detail below the fold

Group 2

The homepage looks good the photos for navigation are vibrant and easy to follow the header is a little difficult to read and the maybe the font color or the font family chosen. It is edgy which is the theme so it may be a design choice

The flow after the home page navigation is not as impression. The pages are very busy with advertisements and many links to connect as well as an overwhelming amount of pictures that I am not sure what to do with.
